2016 Holy Family Catholic Church Commitment

Time

Holy Family is a loving community. Sharing time together at weekend Mass and parish events builds our community and allows us to support each other's faith journey.

Talent

Holy Family is a committed community. As Catholics we are called to do works for each other. By sharing our talents through parish ministries and service work we demonstrate our commitment to those in need. As Fr. Rodel says "We are all in this together as one Holy Family."

Treasure

Holy Family is a blessed community. By donating each week an hour's worth or more of your wages, you are symbolically working an hour for the Holy Family offertory. The offertory funds the basic requirements (lights, water, etc.) and services of our parish. Your weekly donations make the Holy Family Catholic Church possible.

Time

"Prayer has gotten me through all types of life's problems. It is a commitment to pray every day, but I do believe my prayers are answered. I regularly see their results in the good things that happen to the people in my prayers."

Eileen Borne, long time parishioner and 1st Grade Prayer Partner

Talent

Ann Conlon moved to Portland in 2008, joining her son's family as a parishioner at Holy Family. She saw that, while most people in the Parish are welcoming, it's a pretty close-knit group. Coming from outside the parish, Ann wanted to make new friends and be more a part of the Holy Family community, so she joined the Hospitality Committee. Since those early days, she has been involved with Grandma Louise's Rosary Makers, introduced us to Christmas wafer bread (Plotkele), assisted at Vacation Bible School, is a Eucharistic Minister and takes communion to the homebound. It didn't happen all at once, and it didn't consume all her free time. In a quiet, behind-the-scenes way, Ann has contributed her talents to supporting Parish activities and to helping others.

Treasure

"Holy Family Parish has been a tremendous source of community, friendship, and faith for me and my family. The parish provides many wonderful opportunities for the deepening of our spirituality, collectively as a family and as individuals. In order to ensure a sustainable present and a strong future for the parish community, it is a priority for us to contribute regularly."

Joe Donato, school parent and parishioner
